Fiume is the principal seaport of Hungary. Agram is the capital of Croatia and Slavonia and is situated on the Danube.

FOE FIGHTS HARD TO HOLD HILL 360

American Big Guns Keep Up Bombardment of Woods Behind German Line Where Troops Rest.

By the Associated Press.
WITH THE AMERICAN FORCES NORTHWEST OF VERDUN, Oct. 30 (7 p. m.).—Gen. Pershing's forces today improved their positions in the region of Grand Pre. Bellejoie farm is now virtually within the American lines.

By the occupation of Aincerville the Americans have brought within their lines a series of hills and natural positions dominating the country for miles. Aincerville was taken with but little opposition, the resistance being principally from machine guns.

Cling to Hill 360.

East of the River Meuse there was considerable activity today, but there was no material change in the line. The Germans desperately resisted attempts to drive them from Hill 360.

Enemy artillery activity east of the River Meuse decreased this evening, but the Germans continued to throw gas into different parts of the line and to hurl shells of large caliber in the back areas.

The American artillery pounded away at the positions behind the German lines. Their targets included crossroads and woods where enemy troops were reported to be encamped.

Traveling Circus Busy.

The Germans showed more than ordinary activity in the air on Tuesday night, bombing the region of Montfaucon, Cussy and other places. The German squadron known as the "traveling circus" also appeared at different parts of the front. The airplanes were painted in bright colors.

A number of combats resulted and several German machines were brought down without their own lines.

There has been much speculation in official circles as to the probable features of the armistice which will be offered to the Central Powers, but it is admitted that there is no definite knowledge on the subject.

One centipede, a new proposition relates to the guarantee to be exacted from Germany for the repayment of the tremendous financial losses suffered by the populations of those portions of Belgium and France occupied by the German troops. "PRELIMINARY" DISCUSSION ENDS AT PARIS MEETING

Benar Law, Crossing Channel in Airplane, Present for Taking Up of "More Important" Conversations.

STATEMENT THIS WEEK POSSIBLE

Washington Is Without Information of Completion of Armistice Terms, Reported Arrived in Berlin.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 31.—The preliminary conversations which lately have occupied the allied representatives in Paris have been concluded and more important discussions now are beginning, according to reports reaching official quarters here.

To take part in the discussions, Andrew Benar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, went to France yesterday, crossing the channel in an airplane, as he had done on a previous occasion.

The scope of the deliberations of the allied representatives has not been announced, and though it is stated from a reliable source some official declaration of armistice terms possibly may be made before the end of the present week, nothing definitely is known about them.

Some commentators believe that the deliberations will be protracted beyond the time originally intended. Unofficial reports and speculations on the armistice terms continue to occupy a prominent place in the newspapers.

Allied Representatives Still Confer- ing on Armistice Terms.

By the Associated Press.
LONDON, Oct. 31.—The general nature of the military guarantees which the allies will require has been outlined here by the occupation of strategic German bases, as well as the retirement of the German army on its own soil. Maritime guarantees are considered equally important, but this far is only speculative, but the internment of the German submarines, if not the surrender of the whole fleet, appears to be the minimum terms which would satisfy the British people. The sea is as important as the land to this island nation, and the only detail in President Wilson's 14 points on which there is constant questioning is what the President means by "freedom of the seas."

GERMAN PERHAPS SELLS BELGIAN FLAGS BEFORE QUITTING OST

By the Associated Press.
WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—No information had reached Washington today through either official or diplomatic channels to indicate that the American and allied military representatives in France had completed their work of negotiating an armistice.

It was assumed that the report of the arrival of Marshal Foch's terms at Berlin, Tuesday, referred to a Copenhagen dispatch, quoting the Berlin Vossische Zeitung, was based upon press dispatches of Tuesday from London purporting to outline what would be demanded of Germany.

E. M. House, who is in Paris as the special representative of the American Government, sent to the European Governments, has been making long reports to Washington. But it is believed these do not relate to the peace terms of the War Council, but rather embody the individual views he has gathered from many private conferences with the Entente Premiers, Cabinet officers and military and naval officers in attendance upon the council.

There has been much speculation in official circles as to the probable features of the armistice which will be offered to the Central Powers, but it is admitted that there is no definite knowledge on the subject.

LEUT. COL. PARKER OF 138TH DIED OF WOUNDS SEPT. 30

Story of Death After Argonne Battle Told in Letter From Col. Harry G. Howland.

HAD BEEN ORDERED HOME WHEN INJURED

Casualty List Brings to Light Stories of Bravery by St. Louisans—How Corporal Won War Medal.

The death of Lieutenant-Colonel Parker of the 138th Infantry, the St. Louis National Guard regiment, on Sept. 30, from wounds received in the Argonne fighting of the few days previous, was announced in a letter received in St. Louis today, which was written by Col. Harry G. Howland, who had been in command of the 138th, and who was wounded in the same period.

Since Col. E. J. McMahon, the St. Louis commander of the 138th, was transferred to duty at a French seaport, the regiment has been in command of regular army officers, not personally known here. Lieutenant-Colonel Parker, whose name is not stated in Col. Howland's letter, was one of these. Another was Col. White, who was Parker's superior. Col. Howland, before going to France, was stationed at Camp Funston, where he was in command of the 138th, and a sister, Mrs. C. F. Loesch, lives in Sedalia.

James B. Daffern, 21, of Company 138th, died from wounds Oct. 1, according to a dispatch received yesterday by his mother, Mrs. Myrtle Daffern, a widow, of 5220A Kensington avenue. He was married last February to Miss Ethel Owensley, and she now lives at 2130 Oregon avenue. He was formerly an employee of the Graham Paper Co., and enlisted in the First Regiment in May, 1917.

John H. Gardella, 28, of the 147th Infantry, a son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Gardella, of 4522A Evans avenue, was killed in action Sept. 27, a dispatch received by his parents states. He was formerly a bartender in a saloon in the Central National Bank Building, and was a nephew of John P. Penna, president of the Liquor Dealers' Protective Association of Missouri.

Corp. Harry Haferkamp, 23, of Augusta, St. Charles County, was killed in action Sept. 29, according to a letter received by his father, Theodore Haferkamp, from the War Department. He was drafted in September, 1917, and was in I Battery, 12th Field Artillery. He was promoted to Corporal after reaching France. This is the eighth overseas casualty reported for St. Charles County.

Bugler Archie D. Scott of the 138th is listed as wounded slightly. He was for several years a member of the First Regiment. The notification was received by his sister, Miss Melissa Scott, a nurse in the city hospital.

Fred Hayward Patton, 27, of H Company, 138th, listed as wounded severely, was wounded July 6, and his account of the engagement was given in a letter printed in the Post-Dispatch Aug. 5. He related that he killed a German Lieutenant. He is the son of Dr. and Mrs. F. W. Patton of 5573 Vernon avenue. He was wounded Sept. 23, according to a notice sent to his father, John O'Rourke, of 5025A Wells avenue, and is named in today's list. He was a salesman for the Interstate Tailoring Co. and was drafted last April.

Leon L. Lichterman, 24, of C Company, 354th, listed as wounded, degree undetermined, was gassed.

Henry C. Franz, 23, of A Battery, 5th Field Artillery, was wounded Aug. 28, according to a telegram received by his widowed mother, Mrs. Margaret Franz of 1411 Menard street. He was previously wounded June 29. Franz was an acrobat and had traveled with Ringling Bros. circus, as a member of a trapeze quintet. He enlisted in the regular army soon after the United States entered the war.

Lieut. Arthur M. Rhodes, 40, is listed as wounded, degree undetermined. The name of his brother-in-law, E. D. Blake, vice president of the Shigo Iron Store Co., is given as his emergency address. He is in the Fifty-eighth Infantry, and Blake said the report was a belated one, as he had been informed that Lieut. Rhodes had returned to duty.

Six St. Louisans Who Died in France; Five Were in 138th

COOK WILLIAM H. FRERICHS of I Company, 138th, who, an official notice states, died from wounds Sept. 30, is one of three brothers in the service, a fourth brother being Anthony Frerichs of 2917 South Thirtieth street. Leo F. Sherrburn of the Machine Gun Company, 138th, died from wounds Oct. 2. He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. C. E. Sherrburn of 3822 Lafayette avenue, and was a former locomotive fireman.

Victor Fromm of the 138th died of disease. His home was at 3428 McKean avenue.

Robert J. St. James of the band, 138th, who was killed in action Sept. 6, he wrote Sept. 16 to his aunt, Mrs. Tillie Lichterman of 1847 South Tenth street, telling of his experience. He was formerly employed by the Langens Dyeing and Cleaning Co., and was drafted last April.

George A. Hartman, 25, of E Company, 354th, was gassed Aug. 26, and is listed as wounded, degree undetermined. He is the son of Mrs. Helen Hartman of 2007 De Kalb street, and formerly worked as a teamster. In a letter to Ed Hirth of 2009 South Second street, Hartman said he was attached to a shipping and scouting detail which was in the trenches for a month and 20 days ahead of his company. He said he was overcome by a mixture of mustard and chlorine gas.

Sgt. Elmer Naslund of the United States Army Ambulance Service, son of John Naslund of 1805 South Eighteenth street, was wounded Sept. 26, and is named in today's list. Naslund's mother died four weeks ago.

Received French War Cross. Naslund, then a Corporal in the ambulance service, received the French Cross of War last March, for "most noble courage, energy, devotion and coolness" during the evacuation period, when the roads over which he drove his ambulance were under violent bombardment.

March 6, having had an accident to his machine, on a road which was being bombed, he transported the wounded to a shelter, then repaired his machine under fire, and immediately effected the evacuation of the wounded, entrusted to his care, the official order stated.

Naslund was a student of engineering in Columbia University, New York, before the United States entered the war. He returned to St. Louis and tried to get into an officers' training camp, but was rejected as underweight, and he found himself disqualified for the army, navy or aviation. He entered the Army Ambulance Service as soon as it was organized. A brother, Ralph Naslund, is in the service.

Lieut. Milo E. Rynn of I Company, 110th Infantry, son of Paul V. Rynn, secretary of the Chamber of Commerce, is named in today's list as wounded slightly. He has written to his father that he was gassed in the Chateau-Thierry fighting. He was carrying a wounded man on his shoulder and was unable to put the man down and get marks on both of them in time. He has been in a hospital at Nantes, France, and has written that he was recovering. His father has asked the Red Cross to obtain information as to his condition. He enlisted in the Fifth Regiment here, but won a commission after reaching France, and was transferred to the Twenty-eighth Division, containing Pennsylvania troops chiefly.

Henry C. Franz, 23, of A Battery, 5th Field Artillery, was wounded Aug. 28, according to a telegram received by his widowed mother, Mrs. Margaret Franz of 1411 Menard street. He was previously wounded June 29. Franz was an acrobat and had traveled with Ringling Bros. circus, as a member of a trapeze quintet. He enlisted in the regular army soon after the United States entered the war.

Lieut. Arthur M. Rhodes, 40, is listed as wounded, degree undetermined. The name of his brother-in-law, E. D. Blake, vice president of the Shigo Iron Store Co., is given as his emergency address. He is in the Fifty-eighth Infantry, and Blake said the report was a belated one, as he had been informed that Lieut. Rhodes had returned to duty.

APPEALS DRAFT BOARD ACTS ON 269 CASES

Baker, Architect, Dentist and Salesman Among Those Denied Deferred Classification.

An architect, a manufacturer of women's hats, a dentist, a breakfast food salesman, a fur dealer and a banker were among those whose claims for deferred draft classification, on the grounds of industrial essentiality, were denied by the District Appeals Board yesterday.

Some of those placed in Class 1 were: Charles G. Cobb, 33, of 4550 Pershing avenue, assistant farm loan officer of the Mississippi Valley Trust Co.; Ralph M. Black, 35, of the Buckingham Hotel Annex, an architect; Pleasant T. Cole, 32, agricultural expert for the Railroad Administration; Sanford J. Bernheimer, 34, of the Washington Hotel, general manager of the Crown Millinery Co.; Fred Epstein, 34, of 4542 Forest Park boulevard, secretary and treasurer of the Epstein Pants Co.; Milton C. Hallett, 42, of 4222 Washington boulevard, vice president and general manager of the List & Hallett Construction Co.

Brothers Make Appeal. Appeals from the decision of the local board were made on the dependency claims of Edward S. and John J. Little, brothers, of 14 North King's highway, but the District Board placed them in Class 1. They claimed their mother and sister as dependents. Edward S. Little is a salesman for a printing house, and John J. Little is a bond salesman.

Claims Allowed. Among those whose industrial claims were allowed, were: Milton A. Hellman, 32, of 4533 Lindell boulevard, secretary and treasurer of Leese-Goldman Cotton Co.; Eldore M. Goldman, 25, of Washington Hotel, a member of the Olman & Sons Fur and Wool Co., and a brother of Milton C. Hellman, whose claim was disallowed; Carroll J. Hill, 4923A West Pine boulevard, department manager for Shalekoff Hardware Co.; John S. Ament, of 4432 Washington boulevard, civil engineer; Bennett Y. Alvis, 33, of 4578 Clayton avenue, instructor at Washington University Medical School; Frank S. Bar, 26, of 4458 Washington avenue, president Lincoln Steel Forge Co.; Jerome J. Ferro Jr., 36, Washington Hotel, production manager Warren Steel Casting Co.; Edwin V. Glaser, 32, of 4492 West Pine boulevard, secretary and treasurer National Chair Co.; Joseph L. Gauer, 34, of 5064 Maple avenue, secretary and treasurer of Chester Knitting Mills; Richard J. Benzel, 35, statistician for the Bell Telephone Co.

The board made decisions in 269 cases yesterday. It is considering dividing into two sections and operating as two boards to speed up the work. Nearly all the cases considered yesterday were from the Twenty-fifth Ward.

WHITE VOTERS OPPOSE NEGRO IN 4TH DISTRICT

Organize to Defeat W. M. Riley, Republican Candidate for Legislature.

White residents of the Fourth Representative District of St. Louis, comprising all of the Second and Third Wards and parts of the Fourth, Eighteenth, Nineteenth, Twentieth, Twenty-first and Twenty-second Wards, are organizing on a nonpartisan basis to oppose the election of William M. Riley of 922A North Jefferson avenue, a negro politician, as a member of the State Legislature.

Though Riley was nominated as one of three Republican legislative candidates in the district at the August primaries, it was not known to most of the voters in the district that he was a negro.

Republican leaders in the district are Circuit Clerk Nat Goldstein, Herman Bader and E. E. Butler, a son-in-law of Henry L. (Hank) Wecke. They deny responsibility for putting the negro on the ticket and say he filed on his own motion.

Running in Close District. Riley yesterday told a Post-Dispatch reporter this was the case and "no politician" aided him in his quest for office.

There are many negroes in the district, the western part of which extends from the Mississippi River to the Washington Hotel, from Easton avenue to Kossuth avenue. In the eastern half of the district the northern boundary is Angelica street and the southern boundary touches Tyler street and Cass avenue.

Though the district is regarded as Democratic the margin is very small. At the last election there was a difference of only 50 votes between the Democratic candidate and the highest Republican.

The district sends three representatives to the Legislature. With Riley on the Republican ticket are Frank O. Bittner and Edward G. Davidson. The Democratic candidates are Edward J. Hogan Jr., Thomas J. McNamara and James T. O'Brien. Hogan and McNamara were members of the last Legislature.

Responded to Committee's Call. Riley's skin is white, except for innumerable freckles, and his hair is straight, but he has the unmistakable characteristics of his race, which he makes no effort to conceal. His practice is exclusively among negroes. He is about 30 years old.

When asked how he came to file as a candidate for the Legislature he said a committee of "colored folks and white persons" had called on him and asked him to run because they knew he was a "good patriotic citizen."

He said he had not been active in politics in the district, but had bought Liberty bonds of every issue and thrift stamps and had devoted much of his time to drilling negro drafted men in his ward.

Riley said he had no settled policies which he would follow if elected and to all questions about specific measures he gave the same answer, saying that he would "endeavor to conserve the interests of the people of St. Louis and the Fourth Representative District."

He said he was educated in Oklahoma and Nebraska and came to St. Louis about three years ago.

Officer's Gripping Story of St. Louisans' Six Days in the Argonne

Lieut. Van Sickler Describes Fierce Fighting in Which He Feared His Men Would Be Surrounded—4000 Engineers Came to Rescue.

Lieut. William H. Van Sickler Jr., liaison officer of the First Battalion, 139th Infantry, who is the first participant in the Argonne fighting of a month ago to return to St. Louis, answered many telephone calls this morning and last night at his mother's home, 5916 Enright avenue. Most of the calls were from persons who wished to inquire as to the safety of their relatives in the 138th Infantry, the St. Louis National Guard regiment which was with the 139th for six days in the Argonne battle.

Lieut. Van Sickler was obliged to reply to most of the inquiries, though he did not know how the particular person inquired about had fared. An officer, he explained, is not permitted to say that anyone in the service has been killed, unless he has seen the body or has unquestionable personal knowledge of the fact.

Heard of Several Fatalities. He said he had heard that Capt. Clarence Sodermann of L Company, 138th, and Corp. Don Drescher were killed, and had further heard that First Lieutenant Seaman of I Company was killed. Seaman is from Dallas, Tex., and is not well known in St. Louis.

"These are reports which I heard from several different sources," he said, "but I am unable to give positive verification to any of them. Before I left, I went to headquarters and asked for information, in order that I might answer the questions of St. Louis people, but I was told that the lists had not been made up, that men who had been captured, killed or missing were still coming in."

The present commander of the definite information about the 138th which his questions desired. Lieut. Van Sickler said he would like to assure friends of men in the St. Louis batteries, now the 128th Field Artillery, which supported the 138th Infantry in the Argonne fighting, that the casualties in this branch had been very light.

"The only casualties in the 138th Artillery," he said, "were caused by chance shells which were dropped back in the area where the Germans thought they might be."

Lieut. Van Sickler was particularly well acquainted with Lieut. Seaman, as they were together in the army signaling school at Langres, France, receiving instruction in the methods of communication which liaison officers must use to keep the necessary connection between their units and those adjoining.

"The methods used are wireless, telegraph, p. s. (par soil, French for underground), pigeons, pyrotechnics, flashlights and runners. The method most commonly used, while we were on the advance, was the French projector, which gives a light like an automobile headlight, and the use of runners."

"We were instructed that it was unnecessary to use a code, because the Germans knew we were coming, and expected us."

"The Germans pitched hand grenades over from a ravine," he said, "and our boys would run up to the flank of the ravine, fire 18 shots from their automatics and run back. They kept up this kind of fighting two hours, and all the time were in apprehension of being surrounded. But reinforcements came, in the shape of nearly 4000 engineers, who were there for bridge and road work, but who answered just as well as any other troops would have done in such a situation. They thought we had been heavily reinforced, and they retired. After that, we withdrew a quarter of a mile to the top of a hill."

Sept. 29 Worst Day. Sept. 29 was the worst day of the Argonne fight, Lieut. Van Sickler said. "St. Louisans, noticing the number of casualties dated Sept. 28, day, but he says that, for the division as a whole, the 29th was much more trying than any of the other days."

"On that day," he said, "four of our runners were killed, and my orderly died just as I reached him and put my arm about him. On that day we were attacked by the Germans in great force, at the edge of the Montebau Woods, and they at first captured a part of A Company in the 139th. Our boys, who had been kept in reserve in the St. Michel field, welcomed this chance, and they went after the Germans and got back all but 10 of the prisoners, one of them an officer.

On the 25th, he said, a part of the 138th was engaged with the 137th and two battalions of the 139th. Other parts of the 138th, operating to the right, had taken the village of Bery.

Col. Ristine's Feat.

Lieut. Van Sickle told the story of the taking of Vauquois Hill, on the 26th, the first day of the active Argonne fighting, and of the exploit of Lieutenant-Colonel Carl Ristine of Joplin, commander of the 139th Infantry, incidents which were described in cable dispatches from correspondent, printed Oct. 4. He also told of the intrepid way in which Maj. Dwight F. Davis, former Park Commissioner of St. Louis, took part in the fighting at Baunoy, advancing his brigade headquarters from trenches to shell holes throughout the fighting.

Col. Ristine, at night, penetrated the enemy lines alone, wearing a German officer's clothing, and located three ammunition dumps and seven gun positions. Returning, he gave the figures to the artillery, which destroyed the dumps and gun positions, and then led his regiment into battle again.

Some of the most interesting experiences of the men of the 35th Division, Lieut. Van Sickle said, came in the Alsace sector, where they had their first experience of actual fighting.

"We went there to get instruction from the French," he said, "and we found that they had been using the Alsace sector as a training field, with a sort of tacit understanding of 'we won't shoot if you don't.' Men would climb out in the daytime and hang out their washing on the barbed wire."

"This was not the sort of training our boys were looking for. The first day that our regiment relieved the French, and got into trenches next to No Man's Land, they looked over and saw four Germans bathing in a creek that runs down from the mountains overlooking Muehlhausen. The men who saw them first called to their Corporal, who agreed with them that the bathers were Germans, and they then called the Sergeant, and they went down and got the four Germans.

"When the enemy would post a relief, one of our officers would usually be ordered to take a patrol, go over and gather information, and if possible bring in some prisoners."

Meant All-Night Crawl.

"The first time that order was given to me, I felt brave enough, but my knees did not. It sounded worse than it was. What it meant was chiefly an all-night crawl in No Man's Land. With the use of insulated wire cutters, we got inside the enemy's lines. When a star shell was fired and machine guns turned our way, we flopped down and turned they wouldn't see us, and they didn't.

"Because of the mountainous configuration of the Alsace sector it was practicable for either side, by sufficient artillery preparation, and by putting up a box barrage, to go over and take a g. c., or group of command, as the advanced posts were called. That was what H Company of the 138th did in its successful attack (described in one of Kenamore's dispatches to the Post-Dispatch).

"The night before we were relieved from duty in the Alsace sector, Aug. 31, our artillery, the 128th, was very active, and we put over about 2500 gas shells. We learned later that the men who relieved us got the Germans' retaliation for that bombardment, and that a g. c. on our line was taken."

Lieut. Van Sickle will depart Monday or Tuesday for San Antonio, where he will serve as an instructor. He is a Second Lieutenant, and by the fact of being sent back to the United States, is in line for immediate promotion to First Lieutenant. Had he remained in France a few weeks longer he believes he might have won his first lieutenantcy, which would place him now in line for a captaincy. "But when you get orders you go," he said.

3 Years for Burglar in St. Charles.

Sam Smith, 28, a negro from Cairo, Ill., pleaded guilty to burglary yesterday in the St. Charles Circuit Court, following an indictment by 15 minutes earlier. He was sentenced to three years in prison. Smith entered the residence of John Machenberg Oct. 11 and took clothing and household goods.

RECEIVER REPORTS ON ALEX. H. BROWN FAILURE

Assets $466,598, Liabilities $821,364, Secret Speculation $1,250,000 — Books Deplorable.
A report filed in the United States District Court by W. L. McDonald, receiver for the Alex. H. Brown & Co. brokerage firm, 400 North Fourth street, says the assets of the firm are $466,598.38 and its liabilities $821,364.51. These figures, according to the report, may be altered with the completion of an audit which is now being made.
When a voluntary petition in bankruptcy was filed by creditors and a receiver appointed Oct. 1, Alexander H. Brown, of 4950 Lindell boulevard, sold the condition of its finances was due to the secret speculations of the junior partner, Anthony J. Schmidt, of 3001 Geyer avenue, who started with the firm as an office boy 15 years ago.
Secret Speculations.
The receiver's report asserts that secret speculations aggregating nearly $1,250,000 extended from Nov. 18, 1917, to Sept. 23, 1918, and that Josephthal & Co., New York, correspondents of the firm, sold securities for the account of the firm to the aggregate of $968,337.14, and these transactions do not show on the firm's books. The report says the method of bookkeeping by Brown & Co. "opened the way for mistakes and covering up transactions, if necessary."
The report refers to the handling of funds entrusted to the firm by Mrs. A. H. Brueggeman of 4218 Westmainster place, a client. In reference to this and other accounts the receiver says:
"I desire to call the court's attention to some of the individual accounts on the books. One is that of Mrs. A. H. Brueggeman. The books show her to have a credit balance of $925.35, while in reality her credit balance should be $14,925.35. This difference is covered, first, by an error in addition, in which they leave out $4000. Then, in bringing down the balance, a credit balance of $10,925.35 was shown in ink and afterwards the '0' erased, leaving a balance of $925.35."
Other Discrepancies Shown.
Others are those of C. D. Batchelor, J. Nathan, Mrs. Adelle Schmidt, Carl Glaser and Miss Emma Gruen. On these accounts your receiver is of the opinion that Schmidt either had an interest in the accounts or ran trades through them, in which he was interested in the profits.
"Glaser has stated to me that was true, so far as his account was concerned, that trades were run through it in which profits were made, and as they were made he would write a check for his share of the profits or would draw the currency and give to Schmidt his share in cash."
"I have asked him to figure up on them as near as he could and he has given me the figures as something over $31,000 that he paid to Schmidt in this way."

MAN WHO HAD QUARREL WITH WATCHMAN KILLED IS HELD

Charged Technically With Being Accessory Before the Fact in Connection With Fatality.
A coroner's jury today held Robert F. Spradling, 58 years old, of 6649 Marfitt avenue, as accessory before the fact in connection with the killing of William P. Lyons, 51 years old, of 4533 A. Kennedy avenue. The verdict was returned merely to hold Spradling for further investigation.
Spradling and Lyons were employed as watchmen by contractors who are erecting a munitions plant near Clifton avenue and the Frisco Railroad tracks. On the night of Oct. 28 Lyons was found dead on the railroad tracks. His head and back were cut.
Spradling was arrested when it was learned that he and Lyons had quarreled. He admitted to the police having fired a shot, but said that he aimed above Lyons' head merely to frighten him. There was evidence that Lyons had been hit by a train and an autopsy failed to disclose any bullet wounds on the body.
Spradling had a loaded revolver and a long dirk in his pockets when arrested. He was held by the police on a charge of carrying concealed weapons.

BRIDE WHO WENT TO FRANCE
AS A SOLDIER IS DEAD

Military Funeral Is Arranged for
Mrs. Hazel Carter, Who Lived
Aboard Transport.

DOUGLAS, Ariz., Oct. 31.—A military funeral was held here for the body of Mrs. Hazel Carter, the young woman who disguised herself as an American soldier and succeeded in reaching France on the same boat with her husband, who was a non-commissioned officer in the first American contingent. She died recently in Deming, N. M., and her body was sent here for burial.

A chaplain from one of the regiments stationed here officiated, an American flag was draped over the casket, and six soldiers acted as pallbearers. She gave as her reason for going to France that she expected to enter the Red Cross there as a nurse.

ANOTHER TELLS HOW
SELPH HAD HIM FIRED

Paul J. Bierman Was for 20 Years in Postoffice and Had Risen to Superintendent.

Since the publication in the Post-Dispatch of the circumstances under which Postmaster Selph caused the dismissal of Edwin Pidgeon, superintendent of the Ferguson branch of the St. Louis Postoffice, and Charles H. Wilson, superintendent of the Jefferson Barracks branch, other superintendents and employees of long service have come forward to relate circumstances under which they either were dismissed or reduced to other positions made to feel that resignation was their only course.

They explained that their reason for their statements was the hope that, since the Postoffice Department has reopened the Pidgeon case, it also might reopen their cases. They explained, however, that they do not desire re-employment under Postmaster Selph, but seek reinstatement only for the purpose of exoneration and the opportunity to immediately resign.

Case of P. J. Bierman. Paul J. Bierman, 4900 Flora boulevard, who entered the department when 18 years old and in the following 20 years rose to be Night Superintendent of Mails, the second position in the postoffice under the Postmaster, today gave his version of how Selph caused him to be demoted to superintendent of the Arsenal Street Station, then to a less desirable place, then to a mail clerk on the floor and finally accomplished his discharge after refusing Bierman's request for an extension of time to answer charges, because of sickness.

Bierman further declared that, after his employment by W. H. Markham & Co., Selph called George D. Markham on the telephone and told him that "if you knew what kind of a man Bierman was, you would not employ him." Markham replied, according to Bierman, that he was not interested in a personal disreputable, but that if Selph knew anything that would impeach the honesty or integrity of Bierman, he would be glad to know it. Selph made no such charge, Bierman said. Bierman now is employed by the Markham agency.

Postal employees, as is known, are in the civil service and cannot be discharged except under charges approved by the Postoffice Department at Washington. The department usually accepts the recommendations of the Postmaster.

Selph sent a postal employee to his home twice to see if he was sick, Bierman said, and when he presented a physician's certificate that he was to be spared worry, Selph refused to grant an extension of time in which he could answer charges, but on four separate occasions sent special delivery messengers to his home, each bearing fresh charges.

Bierman said he answered the charges on Sept. 23, was suspended two days later and discharged from the service on the third day. Selph declared, Bierman said, that he had submitted the defense to Washington, though the order of discharge came almost before mails could carry it to the Postmaster-General.

Postmaster Selph today said he did not desire to discuss the case and George D. Markham said he would not be interviewed concerning Selph's activities against Bierman.

JEFFERSON CITY, Oct. 31.—On advice from Washington, Col. M. Cord today issued an order, effective Nov. 6, reviving the call for 400 drafted men from the first registration for vocational training at Washington University at St. Louis.

This call was set for Nov. 15 originally, but was postponed on account of influenza.

The same order asked for 500 men for similar service at the State university at Columbia. This university has all arrangements made for the housing and training of this number, but the suspension order has not yet been cancelled.

The St. Louis ward quotas for men called for vocational training at Washington University to report Nov. 6 are: First ward, 9 men; Second, 3; Third, 3; Fourth, 3; Fifth, 2; Seventh, 1; Eighth, 2; Ninth, 4; Eleventh, 15; Twelfth, 4; Thirteenth, 10; Fourteenth, 2; Fifteenth, 2; Sixteenth, 3; Seventeenth, 4; Eighteenth, 2; Nineteenth, 3; Twentieth, 2; Twenty-first, 2; Twenty-second, 1; Twenty-third, 4; Twenty-fourth, 7; Twenty-fifth, 6; Twenty-sixth, 5; Twenty-seventh, 3. This gives St. Louis 107 of these assignments.

St. Louis county is given 5, and the other 28 will be distributed throughout the state.

HEAVY CALLS FOR MEN IN NEW DRAFT AGES FOR NOVEMBER

By the Associated Press. WASHINGTON, Oct. 31.—Men of the new draft ages will first be mobilized in large number early in November under a draft call now in preparation at Provost Marshal-General Crowder's office. It calls for the enlistment of more than 200,000 men qualified for general military service. They will be furnished in proportionate numbers by every state in the Union.

Draft calls suspended during October epidemic has moderated, and have been renewed in sections where the epidemic has moderated, and enlistment of all men under the October call probably will be completed before the November quota is started to the cantonments.

CROSS, FEVERISH CHILD IS BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

Look, mother! See if tongue is coated, breath hot or stomach sour!

"California Syrup of Figs" can't harm tender stomach, liver, bowels.

Every mother realizes, after giving her children "California Syrup of Figs," that this is their ideal laxative, because they love its pleasant taste and it thoroughly cleanses the tender little stomach, liver and bowels without griping.

When cross, fussy, feverish or breath is bad, stomach sour, look at the tongue, mother! If coated, give a teaspoonful of this harmless "fruit laxative," and in a few hours all the waste, bile and undigested food passes out of the system, and you have a well, playful child again. When a little system is full of cold, throat sore, has stomachache, diarrhoea, indigestion, colic—remember a good "inside cleansing" should always be the first treatment given.

Millions of mothers keep "California Syrup of Figs" handy; they know a teaspoonful today saves a sick child tomorrow. Ask your druggist for a bottle of "California Syrup of Figs," which has directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups printed on the bottle. Beware of counterfeiters sold here, so don't be fooled. Get the genuine made by "California Fig Syrup Company,"—ADY.

Business firms who want your orders for cleaning, repairing and other services are advertising in the Post-Dispatch Want Pages.

IF BACKACHE OR KIDNEYS BOTHER

Eat Less Meat. Also Take Glass of Salts Before Eating Breakfast.

Uric acid in meat excites the kidneys, they become overworked; get sluggish, ache, and feel like lumps of lead. The bladder is irritated. When the kidneys clog you must help them flush off the body's waste or you'll be a real sick person shortly. At first you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, you suffer from backache, sick headache, dizziness, stomach gets sour, tongue coated and you feel rheumatic twinges when the weather is bad. Eat less meat; drink lots of water; also get from any pharmacist four ounces of Jad Salts; take a tablespoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then get into the groove. The famous salts are made from the finest grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean clogged kidneys and stimulate them to normal activity, also to neutralize the acids so they no longer are a source of irritation, thus ending bladder weakness. Jad Salts is inexpensive, cannot injure; makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which everyone should take now and then to keep the kidneys clean and active. Druggists here say they sell lots of Jad Salts to folks who believe in overcoming kidney trouble while it is only trouble.—ADY.

STEFANSSON RETURNS AFTER EXPLORING ARCTIC 5 YEARS

Five of Party Remain, Seeking Passage to the Arctic Coast With "Tidal" Drive of Ice. NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Having discovered five islands proved the nonexistence of another which has been on late maps, and made important scientific observations, Alhauar Stefansson reached New York yesterday after five years' exploration of the Arctic seas. He and his companions have explored hitherto virtually unknown 600,000 square miles of the region, hitherto virtually unknown. Stefansson said five of his followers now were attempting a voyage from a point north of Alaska to the North Siberian coast. The boat they occupy has been frozen in the ice and moves with the tidal drift.

VOTERS WITHIN DRAFT AGES MUST SHOW CARDS TUESDAY

Election Board Instructs Judges to Demand Certificates of All Men Not Known to Them.

A resolution was adopted yesterday afternoon by the Board of Election Commissioners, instructing judges of election to require the production by voters within draft ages of their registration cards before permitting them to vote next Tuesday.

The resolution stipulates that if a voter is personally known to the judges, and does not have his card, he is to be permitted to vote. If the voter was in the latest draft he is required only to produce his registration card, but if he was in the earlier drafts he must have his classification card. A similar rule was in effect at the August primary.

ALL HALLOWE'EN GATHERINGS FORBIDDEN BY HEALTH CHIEF

Police Notified to Prevent Pranks by Children and Youngs on Streets Tonight.

Halloween parties yesterday were placed under the ban because of influenza. Health Commissioner Starkiff notified the police to prevent crowds in private homes, at hotels, and the gathering on the streets of children and youths for pranks. In East St. Louis similar orders have been issued. Grocers have been notified by Food Administrator Gephart that the shooting of peas or beans by small boys is a wanton waste of food, and that no peas or beans must be sold for this purpose.

There Is a Good Reason for This Furniture Sale.

Four-Week-Little Furniture Co., Fourth and St. Charles streets, is giving from 10 to 25 per cent discount on a number of high-grade suites. There are dining room and chamber suites, also living room suites, made in their own factory. There is a good reason for their making this substantial reduction, for they must have room right away for their Christmas holiday pieces of furniture. Store open Saturday until 5:30 p. m. Adv.

NEW STORE HOURS TOMORROW

Big Places Downtown to Be Open From 9:30 A. M. to 6 P. M. Stores which our membership in the Associated Retailers and this includes all the large downtown stores, will open at 9:30 a. m. and close at 6 p. m., beginning tomorrow. The new hours are adopted by the Associated Retailers, acting in co-operation with the Health Department for relief of street car congestion. When a special influenza ban was ordered by the Health Department two weeks ago, the retail establishments in the area between Twelfth street, Fourth street, Washington avenue and Olive street, changed their business hours, which had been 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. to 9:30 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. A few days later the schedule again was changed, with the consent of the Health Department, to 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. The street car company stated that the latter hours failed to relieve congestion.

FORGET-ME-NOT SALE FOR BELGIAN BABIES

Tomorrow Will Be First of Three-Days' Campaign Here for War Orphans.

TOMORROW will be the first of the three days which have been designated as Belgian Babies' Day, sponsored by the St. Louis Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense, when forget-me-nots will be sold in the downtown stores and buildings to raise funds to help in caring for more than a million babies who have been made orphans and homeless by the war. The forget-me-not is the official flower of Belgium and is indeed symbolical of that brave little country whose sufferings and hardships have brought the sympathy of almost the entire world to her door. L. P. E. Giffroy, who is the official representative of the Belgian Military Mission who has been directing these campaigns in most of the principal cities of the United States and who is here to assist in making the St. Louis drive a success said that an average of 255 babies were dying daily for want of proper food and care.

Many prominent women and young girls will devote their time to the cause and the office buildings will be in charge of the V. A. D.'s, a newly organized branch of the St. Louis Woman's Committee, Council of National Defense.

The other departments of the committee including the War Board of Religious Organizations and the ward organizations will also be in charge of other buildings and stores and clubs, patriotic, fraternal and educational societies will also lend their aid.

J. F. BLAINE DIES IN NEW YORK

James F. Blaine, 40 years old, 5330 Pershing avenue, sales manager of the Barrett Co. in the Laclede Gaslight Building, died yesterday in New York. His wife, who was the divorced wife of Keith Donaldson of New York, was at his bedside when he died.

Mrs. Blaine, who was Evelyn Hunter of Memphis before her marriage, recently figured in a suit here over custody of her child, Dorothy Donaldson, 11 years old. The Court held that the father was entitled to temporary custody under an agreement. Blaine was a grandnephew of the late James G. Blaine of Maine, former Secretary of State.

LAWYERS APPEAL FOR NON-PARTISAN JUDGES

Statement to Public Recalls How Republicans Ignored Bar Association Plan.

An appeal to save the Circuit Courts of St. Louis from politically selected judges, and to prevent the Judiciary of St. Louis from being Republican in its entirety, has been issued by a committee of lawyers, who were active in the convention last May which selected the Democratic nominees for Circuit Judge and for Probate Judge.

A letter has been sent to each lawyer who participated in the convention with a list of all registered voters in his precinct. He is urged to personally communicate with each of the voters with whom he has a personal acquaintance and to urge them to vote for the Democratic candidates. The lawyers signing the letter are former Judge Daniel G. Taylor, former City Counselor Charles W. Bates, former Judge Virgil Ruse, Peter Barrett, former Judge Rhodes E. Cave, former Judge Irvin V. Barth, John P. Leahy, Ben A. Wood, Marion C. Early, Thomas D. Cannon, Vincent McShane and John E. Lee.

Statement to Public.
In a statement to the public, which the committee requested the Post-Dispatch to publish, the manner of the selection of the Democratic and Republican candidates is explained as follows:

"Misleading impressions have been created as to what candidates for the Circuit and Probate bench have been endorsed by the St. Louis Bar Association. It is important that the exact facts be given to the public.

"The St. Louis Bar Association last spring appointed a committee to take steps to endeavor to bring out the best judicial candidates available on both the Republican and Democratic tickets—a nonpartisan effort for the benefit of the community as a whole, and not of any political party.

"The committee, after considerable thought, submitted the following plan to both the Republican and Democratic City Central Committees: Plan of Committee.

"That a convention of all the Republican lawyers of the city be called to select the Republican judicial candidates, and that a convention of all the Democratic lawyers be called to select the Democratic judicial candidates.

"That the candidates selected by the Republican lawyers be accepted by the Republican City Central Committee, and that the candidates selected by the Democratic lawyers be accepted by the Democratic City Central Committee, thus making it certain that whichever ticket should be elected the city would have competent judges.

"The Republican City Central Committee refused to accept this plan. They informed the lawyers that they could select their own judicial ticket.

"The Democratic City Central Committee accepted the plan. Thereupon the committee of the Bar Association called a meeting of the Democratic members of the bar, which met at the Planters Hotel in May, and selected the following men: 'For Circuit Judge, full term, Thomas Bond, Richard A. Jones, Franklin Miller and Charles B. Williams; for Circuit Judge, four-year term, Edward D. Carey; for Circuit Judges, six-year term, Anthony A. O'Halloran and Sterling E. Edmunds, and for Probate Judge, Chilton Atkinson.

Republicans Judge Own Fitness.
"The Democratic City Central Committee in accordance with its agreement, accepted these men, and they were elected without opposition at the primary in August.

"The Republican lawyers, being unable to secure the consent of the Republican organization to accept their selections, held no convention, with the result that the Republican candidates were not elected from the bar at large by their fellow Republican lawyers, but each Republican filed for the primary on his own account, and thus was judge of his own fitness.

"The Republican City Central Committee had its own slate at the primary and all of its candidates were successful save one, so that the Republican judicial candidates, with this one exception, are the candidates of the Republican machine politicians.

Purpose to Get Good Judges.
"After the candidates had all filed for the August primary, a preferential vote was taken among the Republican lawyers to ascertain which of their judicial candidates was thought most eligible. This vote was necessarily limited to the 12 men who had filed for the Republican primary. It was in no sense a selection of men from the whole bar as qualified for the bench. Two of the present four Republican six-year term candidates, Hogan and Landwehr, failed to receive even this limited approval.

"The sole object of the convention which selected the Democratic judicial ticket was to secure men fit and qualified to act as judges. On the theory that lawyers, who know their associates, are best qualified to pass upon their qualifications, the entire Democratic judicial ticket ought to be elected.

"The Democratic judicial ticket is thus the result of a nonpartisan effort started by the St. Louis Bar Association, composed of both Republican and Democratic lawyers, to get good judges.

Today's Beauty Talk

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a very trifling cost, if you get from your druggist a package of Canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid—enough so it is easy to apply to all the hair in a single drop of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the daintily perfumed preparation that thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing, the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.—ADV.

MISSOURIAN IS FOUND GUILTY OF DISLOYALTY

Claude D. Bunyard of Salem Said Only Poor Boys Were Sent to France.

Claude D. Bunyard of Salem, Mo., a real estate dealer, was found guilty by a jury in the United States District Court yesterday afternoon of violating the espionage act. Sentence was deferred by Judge Munger.

Bunyard's conviction was on a count charging that he said the Government had sent all the poor boys to France and left the rich ones at home. He was acquitted on a charge of questioning the honesty of the Red Cross organization. Originally there were 27 counts in the indictment, but all except these two were ruled out by the Court.

Bunyard's attorney announced he would file a motion for a new trial.

First Case for Judge. Bunyard's was the first case tried before Judge Munger, who was sent here from Lincoln, Neb., to aid Judge Dyer in clearing the docket of espionage cases.

Following the filing yesterday of an opinion by Judge Carland of the United States Court of Appeals that it was not necessary to prove in an espionage case indictment that disloyal publications or remarks actually reached men in the military or recruiting service, Judge Munger reversed his decision in which he had sustained a demurrer in the case of William Frederick Wehmeyer of Alton, charged with having denounced President Wilson and having said "Hurrah for Kaiser."

Case Scheduled for Today. This reversal reinstated Wehmeyer's case, and it was put on the docket for trial today.

After the filing of Judge Carland's opinion, Assistant Attorney-General Williams made a motion that Judge Munger reconsider his action of last Saturday in sustaining demurrers in the cases of 12 espionage act defendants. In five of these cases the charges were all thrown out. Formal motions in nine of the cases were filed today.

The Judge still has this motion under consideration, but his action in reference to Wehmeyer's case is taken as indicating that he will restore all charges against the defendants which were thrown out on a plea of the "insufficient evidence" of the one laid down in Judge Carland's opinion.

Attorneys for the defendants objected to the reopening of their cases and said that a Supreme Court decision on the point involved should be asked for by the Government.

M. C. Whaley of Poplar Bluff, Mo., was sworn in as an assistant to United States District Attorney Oliver. He will take over the duties heretofore performed by Vance J. Higgs, assistant District Attorney, who is now devoting himself exclusively to grand jury work in connection with espionage cases.

OBSTACLE HALTS PLAN TO MAKE SANITARIUM INTO U. S. HOSPITAL

Welfare Director Schmoll Wires Washington Officers for Another Conference on Subject.

In response to a message from Lieutenant-Colonel Hornsby of the Surgeon-General's staff, asking when the city sanitarium will be turned over to the War Department for use as a 3000-bed military hospital for wounded soldiers returned from France, Director of Public Welfare Schmoll today wired Washington that, in view of the fact that the State Insane Asylum is able to take over only 350 of 1000 sanitarium inmates, for whom outside accommodation has been sought, another conference on the subject of turning the sanitarium over to the War Department will be necessary.

Director Schmoll said that he wished it understood that the city had made the offer to the War Department, contingent upon ability to properly care for the inmates at the sanitarium in other quarters. He said that many of the inmates had been received from relatives and friends of the inmates, protesting against their proposed removal to institutions out of the city. Such fears, he added, were unfounded, as the city has no intention of sending out of town any patients having relatives in the city as in all probability, if they are transferred, suitable and comfortable accommodations will be found for them in St. Louis.

The Welfare Director further said that if the war ends soon, the Government may not need such a large institution as the City Sanitarium, and that in that event other arrangements might be made.

SOLDIER TRAVELER WITH LEG GONE CALLS HIMSELF LUCKY Sergt. Himes Says One Company of Regulars Which "Went in" Twice Had but 15 Men Left.

Sergt. Fred Himes, 35 years old, a broad-shouldered six-footer of a soldier, leaped on his crutch at Union Station this morning and laughingly told reporters how lucky he considered himself that he had only lost his right leg. "After that high-explosive shell killed three men beside me and took off my leg, my regiment went in at Chateau-Thierry and Soissons," he said. "I saw them in a rest camp later. There were 15 of my company left, so I guess I won't complain." There are about 250 men in the average infantry company.

to be fitted with an artificial limb. His home is in Gregory, S. D. He has been in the army six years. He attracted much attention in the Union Station midway.

Colors That Clash

—are often stimulating—like a sharp discord in music that startles one into appreciation of its harmonies.

In some of the more modern music and some of the most modern cretonnes there seems to be a surplus of stimuli. But all the world is no longer to be thrilled by the merely beautiful—it takes more and more spice to tickle the pampered palate.

Tastes differ. What would be irritatingly inane to one woman would be soothingly harmonious to another—and both have good taste.

She whose life is tuned to a high key will revel in the exotic effects of the new Egyptian patterns, the quiet, reposeful woman will love best the tangled beauties of "just flowers," and between these extremes of taste cretonnes, like the one shown in the illustration, will appeal.

Uneven stripes are interrupted by occasional flowers, which look as though they had fallen from the overflowing baskets, and though this design comes in three different color schemes, one seems quite as lovely as another.

There is no variety of cretonnes in St. Louis to compare to ours, and the variety is limited to patterns that would properly belong in tastefully appointed homes.

MARKET AND FINANCIAL NEWS

STOCK MARKET STEADY
AFTER LOWER OPENING

U. S. Steel, Mexican Petroleum and Other Shares Reflect Better Buying Demand.

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—The wide break in the stock market yesterday brought in selling orders at the opening of trading today, and prices were irregularly lower on many of the favorite shares. U. S. Steel's first advance was around 1 1/2% against 10 1/2% at the close yesterday. Speculation in the first half hour gave promise of an active session.

The steel industry is greatly interested in more or less definite assurances received from Washington that to protect industry the government control for a period after peace has come assured. The War Industries Board is definitely constituted for six months after peace. What its real power would be is another matter. It is one thing for the steel producers to accept mandates of the board intended to help the country by producing war, and another thing to accept upon mandates calculated to help the country by producing peace.

War control of prices has involved the fixing of maximum limits, but what would be required to aid producers in the transition from war to peace is the fixing of minimum limits, this being a distinction which the Attorney-General might not be disposed to overlook.

In any event, however, the War Industries Board might act as a market leader, by representing the Fleet Corporation and the Railroad Administration in their large purchases of steel, thus possibly setting up prices which the trade at large would accept.

DETAILED REPORT OF DAY'S TRADING IN WALL STREET

NEW YORK, Oct. 31.—Further heavy selling of popular issues attended the active trading of today's stock market. United States Steel bearing the brunt of the movement, its price falling to 10 1/2% from 11 1/2% at the opening. Canadian Pacific, also a favorite, fell to 44 1/2% from 46 1/2%. These declines were followed by a general reaction in the market, with many other popular issues falling to various degrees. The market closed lower than it opened, with a net loss of 1 1/2% for the day. The volume of trading was heavy, with a total of 10,000,000 shares changing hands.
